To Whom It May Concern,

Patrick Domingues was employed by Antisyn from 06/26/2013 until 11/20/2015. He originally started in the role of IT Support Technician and was eventually moved to Reactive Support – Team Lead.

Patrick's primary roles involved providing reactive support to our clients, primarily remotely but with some onsite visits as well. Additionally, as Team Lead, he was held to a higher standard of performance, which he consistently met. He was known for consistently getting things done and was frequently the technician that would take over resolving issues from lower level technicians.

During his employment, Patrick showed great drive and ambition. He was constantly interested in growing, learning and overall earning new certifications.

I truly believe that given the right opportunity for growth, that Patrick can be a valuable asset to an organization

Sincerely,
